John Whicher: *Sowerby's Mineral Conchology. Tales of the unexpected

James Sowerby's Mineral Conchology of Great Britain, a comprehensive catalogue of invertebrate fossils, was published over a 34-year time span starting in 1812. The finished work contains 650 coloured plates distributed over 7 volumes. John will revisit the subsequent history of several species he described with outcomes he would probably not have expected. He will be bringing specimens to the NHM to accompany his talk.
